

HERE AND THERE IN THE WHIRL OF SOCIETY
JUNE, MONTH OF BRIDES AND ROSES, AT HANDRomance Ends
With Beautiful
Church WeddingSanford - Matthews Nuptials
Form Brilliant Event of Past Week

One of the beautifully appointed weddings of the week occurred at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning at the First Congregational church when the marriage of Reverend Godfrey Matthews, M. A. pastor of the church, and Miss Emer Sanford, daughter of the late George H. Sanford and Mrs. Emma W. Sanford, was solemnized under the old Anglican ceremony by the Reverend John W. Hyslop, rector of the church of the Good Shepherd, and the Reverend John Edward Carver, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Ogden.

The Reverend Matthews is a native of Middleboro, England, and a graduate of the University of Edinburgh. He left a pastorate in Herne Hill, London, to come to America, spending a short time in Boston and four years in Ipswich, South Dakota, finally coming to Ogden, where he has established a name for himself, as a man of exceptional attainments and sterling qualities, and has made many friends in all walks of life in this community. His bride is a native of New England, but has grown up in Ogden from early girlhood to womanhood, making a wide circle of friends, who love and esteem her, for her sunny disposition and absolute loyalty, both in the social world and in her business connections. She has been a member of the editorial staff of the Ogden Standard for the past seven years and in that capacity has earned the warm appreciation of her co-workers on the paper and a host of its patrons as well.

The church and its parlors were attractively decorated for the occasion, fern, white and lavender lilacs and tulips with other dainty spring flowers making the little church near the corner of Adams avenue and Twenty-fifth street, a most attractive place. A large number of guests filled the church, to witness the nuptial ceremony and to participate in the reception which followed.

The wedding was the culmination of a newspaper romance which was born and developed during the period when Reverend Matthews volunteered his services to the Standard during the war and while at the same period, Miss Sanford was employed in the newspaper office. The romance ripened during the months that followed and resulted in the announcement of the engagement several weeks ago. Miss Sanford resigned her position with the newspaper two weeks ago to become the bride of the minister.

"A most beautiful wedding," this was the sentence on the lips of the friends of the bride and groom as the ceremony was completed. Nearly an hour was spent in the showering of congratulations upon the couple before the wedding breakfast and their later departure for Salt Lake where they are spending a portion of their honeymoon.

The rostrum of the church was completely filled with lilacs and tulips, and similar flowers were used for the church decoration. To the strains of the "Wedding March" the bride, attractive in a simply designed gown of cream white crepe de mouton, with veil and orange blossoms, was led to the altar by Mayor Frank Francis. John Coates, best man, accompanied the Reverend Matthews and the couple met at the altar, as the congregation arose.

The Reverend John W. Hyslop conducted the marriage ceremony and the Reverend John E. Carver, the betrothal. Miss Lillian Thatcher was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Marie Sanford and Miss Grace Matthews, sisters of the bride and groom. The ushers were George Likert, Renss Likert, Charles Johnson, Harry Lyons, Leonard Conn and the Misses Sherrill, Henderson, Wanda Wren, Mattiebell Shields, Velma Tibbets, Helen Mills, and Dorothy Kidder.

Miss Dora Smith, violinist, accompanied by Miss Ivine Shields, played the wedding march and appropriate selections throughout the serving of the wedding breakfast, which was given in the dining room of the church parlors. The dining room, beautifully decorated and lighted in lavender and white effect, carried out the general color scheme of the entire church decoration. The tables were set to form a hollow square in the center of which stood a beautiful fountain, with a large frosted globe which shed a warm radiance over all. Ferns and lilacs adorned the body of the fountain. The ceiling above the table was a canopy of flowers and fern with cleverly arranged lavender lights.

The breakfast was prepared and served in a most perfect manner by Miss Gerta Woodruff, assisted by Mrs. Sprague and the six fair young girls in white who had also assisted the young men as ushers at the wedding ceremonies.

Covers were laid for: Reverend

The bridal group at the wedding of the Rev. Godfrey Matthews and Miss Emer Sanford. From left to right, those in the group are: John Coates, best man; Miss Marie Sanford, sister of the bride, who was bridesmaid; Miss Lillian Thatcher, maid of honor; the bride; the bridegroom; Helen Francis, flower girl; Rev. John Edward Carver; Godfrey Morgan, nephew of the bridegroom; Mayor Frank Francis, and Miss Grace Matthews, sister of the bridegroom, who was bridesmaid.

Miss Louise Chidester, one of the students who was presented in a piano concert recital Friday evening at the First Congregational church by Frederic Moss. Miss Chidester has studied under Mr. Moss for the past two years.

and Mrs. Matthews, Miss Lillian Thatcher, maid of honor, Mayor and Mrs. Francis and daughter Helen. Reverend and Mrs. John W. Hyslop, Reverend and Mrs. John E. Carver, Mrs. Emma W. Sanford, mother of the bride, Miss Edith Matthews and Mrs. Margaret Morgan, sisters of the groom, Godfrey Morgan, his nephew, Mrs. Frank C. Kimball, and son Ralph. Miss Marie Sanford and Miss Grace Matthews, sisters of the bride and groom who attended as bridesmaids and John Coates, best man.

Mrs. W. G. Dalrymple and Mrs. A. C. Emerson arranged the artistic decoration of the church and a number of the young ladies of the Sunday school brought quantities of ferns and flowers in their autos. The entire church co-operated in making

Mrs. W. L. Mellinger, wife of the Rev. W. L. Mellinger, who will give an expression recital on Friday evening, June 4, at the First Christian church. This is the first recital that Mrs. Mellinger has given in Ogden.

to the guests present. A basket of La France roses were used for decorations. The following were present: Lieutenant R. E. Overly, commandant of the Ogden B. O. T. C.; Major Frank Pingree, Captain Dan Rowland, Captain Weston Bird, Lieutenant Hillard Wherry, Sergeant Paul Garner and Sergeant Theron Mars.

The colored Ladies' auxiliary, I. B. P. O. E., will present a musical comedy at the Little Theater, June 3 and 4. Much fun and entertainment has been promised to those who attend.

Miss Clara Huggins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Huggins, assisted by her sister, Mrs. Emma Kenny, entertained Tuesday afternoon at a trousseau tea between the hours of 1 and 3. Fragrant lilacs arranged in wicker baskets were placed through out the home, and a color scheme of lavender was carried out on the table. Those who assisted in receiving the guests were Mrs. Hattie Carter, Mrs. Frances Eador and Mrs. Edna Kenny. Tea was served during the afternoon by the Misses Martha Scudder, Dorothy Prout, Helen Prout and Vinette Parry. Over two hundred guests called during the afternoon. Miss Huggins is to become the bride of Kenny A. Rock on June 2.

Another of the delightful card parties given by the members of the Service Star Legion was held Tuesday afternoon in the I. O. O. F. hall. The entire afternoon was spent in playing cards and the members of the Legion proved themselves to be charming hostesses.

CLUB
Calendar

The Ogden Britannic association gave its monthly social last Monday evening in the Eagles hall. The evening was passed with a very entertaining program, consisting of both instrumental and vocal numbers. The program follows:

Chairman—H. Fisher.
Piano selection—Miss Theodore Bitten.
Vocal solo—T. Taylor.
Reading—Miss Noble.
Vocal number—J. Wilson; accompanist, violin, W. Kinley.
Song—Mrs. H. Fisher.
Violin solo—W. Kinley.
Instrumental duet, Mr. and Mrs. J. Draper.
Duet, "Alice, Where Art Thou?"—Mrs. Ben Bitten and Miss T. Bitten.
Solo, "Song That Reached My Heart"—H. McMillan.
Accompanist, violin, W. Kinley.
Accompanist, piano, Miss Theodore Bitten.
Closing selection, "The Star-Spangled Banner"—Members.

Mrs. Charles Richards was hostess to the members of the Azalea Nostra club one day last week at an evening party at her home in the Plaza apartments. At 7 o'clock a delicious four-course dinner was served to the guests. The table, on each side of the tulips were placed candlesticks, each bearing a red candle, and tied prettily with red maline. Following the dinner, the remainder of the evening was enjoyed in five hundred, awards for the cards going to Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Van Ness, who were the guests for the evening. Those present besides the host and hostess were Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Lippincott, Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson, Mr. and Mrs. Gottschall, Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Carson and Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Van Ness.

The B. I. M. Five Hundred club was entertained last Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. D. J. Greenwell, 1841 Washington avenue. Three tables were arranged for five hundred and honors were awarded to Mrs. T. C. Iverson. At the close of the evening refreshments were served. All decorations were carried out in a yellow color scheme. The club will meet Tuesday, June 8, at the residence of Mrs. William Harrop, 444 Washington avenue.

Mrs. Harold Tribe entertained the members of the Deaux Esprit club, Friday afternoon, at her home, 551 Twenty-third street.

Mrs. Paul A. Gysin was hostess to the members of the W. R. C. social club Friday afternoon at her home, 6248 Moffitt avenue. The meeting opened at 2:30 o'clock.

The Vincent Chautauqua circle met Friday evening at the home of Mrs. George J. Kelly. The meeting was the last to be held for the year and was attended by a large number of members and guests.

Mrs. Walter Ashment will entertain the members of the La Cus club next Thursday afternoon at her home on Thirty-second street.

Abraham Lincoln circle No. 2, Ladies of the G. A. R., met Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the I. O. O. F. hall. The meeting was called to order at 3 o'clock and plans were made for Memorial day.

The Ladies' Kensington of the First Baptist church met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. H. Smith, 2573 Madison avenue. The usual business meeting was held and a social hour enjoyed.

Mrs. Heber Scowcroft entertained the members of the Acacia club Friday afternoon at her home, 795 Twenty-fourth street.

The O. A. O. Kensington club met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Joseph Wallace, 573 Twenty-seventh street.

Miss Lizette Maginnis was hostess to the members of the S. O. H. club Monday evening at her home on Washington avenue. Miss Madeline Quillman gave a paper on "Thomas Edison." After the Kensington hour was enjoyed, dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mrs. Fred M. Nye entertained the members of the card club Thursday afternoon at her home, 2546 Jefferson avenue. Cards were enjoyed during the afternoon. Lilacs were used as decorations in the home.

Mrs. John McCready was hostess to the members of the Episcopal guild Wednesday afternoon at her home, 476 Twenty-third street. After the usual business meeting a social hour was enjoyed.

Gold Star was observed Monday evening at the Elks home on Grant avenue by the members of the Ogden Service Star Legion. After a short business meeting the members were joined by the members of the American Legion. A memorial service was held and a program was given. Mrs. J. U. Eldredge, Jr., president of the Service Star Legion spoke the words of greeting for the evening. Her address was followed by the program.

(Continued on Following Page.)

Deaf Students
Present Most Delightful Play

"The Story of the Deaf" Is Artistic Presentation on School Campus

Artistic in every sense of the word and entertaining from the opening scene until the last, "The Story of the Deaf," a pageant presented last Monday afternoon by 150 students of the State School for the Deaf and Blind, scored the biggest success in the way of school festivals. Featured as the annual festival of the year, "The Story of the Deaf" was declared by many who have witnessed other May fests to have surpassed by far any of those previously given. Handsome lads and lovely lassies, charmingly costumed, entertained and enchanted the thousands who gathered for the occasion on the south campus of the school.

Grant Morgan of Spanish Fork, Utah, was presented with his diploma for his successful completion of the high school course of the school at the opening of the festival program. He was applauded heartily by the vast audience.

Representing the senses, five dainty maidens opened the festival. Costumed gayly in the brightest of yellow, Miss Mona Lecklitter, as Seeing, held her audience. Taste, characterized by Miss Vida Crawford in the softest of green, followed Seeing, while Miss Elsie Lamb as Touch, attired in pink, merrily joins her companion on the lawn. Carrying a bouquet of lilacs and gowned in lavender, Miss Gladys Jones portrayed Smell, while Miss Corline Wood, costumed in blue, characterized Hearing. The five maidens made a pretty sight as they danced together on the grass, their costumes flashing color. Others seeking the blessings of the five senses joined the senses and joined together in the revel. While the others are engrossed in the dancing, Hearing wanders away and in lost, and the maiden who enters is blessed by only four. She is disconsolate when she finds that she cannot hear, and Knowledge comes to her solace. Nature furnishes for her happiness, flowers, butterflies and birds.

From this point in the pageant the story of the Deaf is told, taking it through the Greek episode, the early Christian episode, the Spanish episode, the French episode and the American episode. Each of the episodes was characterized by native costumes, with the Deaf girl wandering through the episodes, finding as the years advance a life of happiness and joy in service. The portrayal of the struggle of the deaf against intolerance and neglect to a position of happiness and achievement through education is the theme of the pageant unfolded throughout.

Mrs. Isabelle S. Ross directed the work of the students. Miss Florence Bennett, who directed the making of the unique and wonderful costumes, also claimed her portion of the success, for every scene of the festival was characterized by the distinctness of costumes. Perhaps one of the most effective scenes was that of the Indians, who attracted the interest of every one by their war paint and their realistic warwhoops. Miss Lillian Thatcher directed the orchestra and the music.

Perhaps the prettiest scene of the pageant was that where America arises and bestows on all her gifts of freedom and love. Each of the various nations contribute to America, and all join in the singing of "The Star-Spangled Banner." Those who took prominent part in the pageant were: Seeing, Mona Lecklitter; Taste, Vida Crawford; Touch, Elsie Lamb; Smell, Gladys Jones; Hearing, Corline Wood; Maiden, Edna Wright; Knowledge, Violet Taylor; Ponce de Leon, Max W. Woodbury; Bonet, William Parker; Abbe de L'Espe, Max Woodbury.

When the pageant was presented Wednesday in Salt Lake at the Liberty park the many thousands who gathered to see it were as pleased and delighted as Ogden residents.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hawkins were delightedly surprised by a number of friends one day last week at their home, 555 Twenty-ninth street. Music and cards were the entertainment of the evening with honors awarded to Mrs. Hancock. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Norman Moyes, Mr. and Mrs. Clair Boyle, Mr. and Mrs. H. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Theron Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. McBratney, Jr., Mrs. Norma Hume and Mrs. Hancock, Mr. Hill and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hawkins.

One of the pleasing surprises of the week which was given in Salt Lake was the announcement made by David A. Coombs on the marriage of his daughter, Corley A. to Charles A. McCarthy of Ogden. The marriage ceremony was solemnized by Bishop James Maxwell in the supreme courtroom of the State capitol new year's day. The couple have just left for an extended trip through California and the Northwest, and they will be at home to their many friends after July 1, at Ogden, Utah.

Dr. and Mrs. L. E. Kershaw and their daughter, Edith, returned from New York last Wednesday, after passing the past seven months in the East. While they were away, Dr. Kershaw studied in one of the universities in New York, and also in one in Chicago. Dr. and Mrs. Kershaw will make their home in Ogden.